

Marion Jones Johnson

1850-1950 Centennial Biography

Marion Jones Johnson was born in Lehi, Utah October 25, 1883, the daughter of Thomas and Florence Taylor Jones. She is the oldest of eleven children. Her father emigrated from Wales at the age of six and arrived in Utah in 1868, after having crossed the plains with no team.

She was educated in Lehi in Lehi public schools and lived here until her marriage. On August 20, 1906 she married James Edwin Johnson. From this union, five sons were born: Norman E., Alton B., William D., Herbert N., and Ronald T. Johnson. Norman died June 20, 1942. She also reared a grandson, Johnny E. Johnson.

The family lived in Provo, Utah for the first twelve years of their married life. then they moved in 1918, with their five youngsters to Idaho, where they were engaged in farming.

In 1924, they moved back to Lehi, and have resided here in the Lehi Fourth Ward since then.

Mrs. Johnson, has served seventeen years on the Old Folks Committee; twelve years on the Fourth Ward Missionary Committee; has been a Relief Society Teacher for twenty-four years; has served as a teacher in Primary, was a counselor in the Fourth Ward mutual for two years, and also served on the Genealogical Committee. She is a member of the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers, and has served in various capacities in this organization.